GERMANS START BIG OFFENSIVE

The greatest offensive since the war began was started on the Western Front, Thursday last, where they have been massing troops for some time. The battle line extends for many miles and it is estimated by the Allies that more than 1,200, 000 Germans were actually engaged in the fighting. The enemy advanced in close formation and supported by unlimited reserves, have forced the British to give back along the battle front in many places but this is nothing more than the Allies expected. Official reports say the enemy has suffered the loss of 300, 000 men while the Germans report having captured 65,000 British prisoners, 900 guns and 100 tanks, which the British deny. The Canadians made the greatest gas attack (the world has ever known when 5,000 tanks of gas were hurled at the advance infantry.

The Hun's monster gun which was dropping shells in Paris at regular intervals is reported to have been located and silenced.

Today's war bulletin says the Allied troops have concentrated and are making a brilliant counter attack with the British cavalry in action.
Germans, sick and tired of the whole business, are pouring into the British prison camps. Long ambulances are carrying the German wounded away from home.

The Allied front is standing firm now and the enemy offensive is checked along all fronts.

RED CROSS NOTES

The terrible war news we have received the last few days has touched all very deeply and we turn to our Red Cross work with renewed energy. The Serving Guild has decided to make the week commencing tainable for those who prefer to do their work at home. Every worker is urged to her utmost that week. The Munson Guild has sent a donation of $200.00 to the general fund of the Red Cross.

The noted violinist, Skovgaard, and the talented artists who are accompanying him on his tour are going to give a concert in Munson under the auspices of the Red Cross some time near the end of April.
Watch for the date which will be announced soon.

The Guild will convey their grateful thanks to the White Rose Society for a donation of $31, this being the proceeds of a Box Social and Dance held there.

with gratitude the following donations: Mrs. Wm. Knols, $5; Mrs.
Turner, 3 prs. of slippers; Mrs.

The Future of Wheat Prices

Prices Likely to Hold for Some Time to Come

[illegible]

for peace in anything the Teumullistrants are saying or doing.
It granted the German Socialists the right to demand that there be to exert enough pressure to the junkerband to terms, and ended the preliminaries to actual war. There are no more, or few left off, what there was. What results there be, believe prices of African wheat would fall so low as to inflict loss upon the producers of the world. The price of wheat in the United States has fallen in the 1913 crop at not less than $2 bushel, war or no war.

It is not true that wheat has been used only in the usual way, that it probably be higher, instead of lower, than those specified by the armistice. The world is full of people is hungry today. It is likely to be hungry for a considerable period to come, war or no war, despite the efforts of the United States Government, aided by imported original

Great Britain urgently pleads 75 000 000 bushels more of our of wheat crop. Australia's crop is to be 38,500,000 short. Argentina is depending exclusively on a hungry world. Scandinavia is a cereal foodstuffs, and so do the United States and Canada. Europe, Russia, ordinarily a big producer of wheat, is in no position, as yet, to come effectively to the aid of the hungry world.

The preponderance of probability is that the wheat crop of the year will be very alive wheat values for an indefinite period to come—Minneapolis.

Lie. That Came Back

When Sub Commander is a Prisoner in England, Admits That He Is a Liar

Der Freilich Spiegel von und zu demselben is a Lieutenant Commander in the German navy. He is also a U-boat captain. Incidentally, is now a prisoner of war in England. He has written a book called "The Voyage of 'U-1,'" and in it is described with some detail his experiences when he met a British hospital ship on the Atlantic, was stamped on the deck," he writes, "to see it go by flaunting its threatening. But I could not for my orders and my own feels I have crossed me from an old book was circulated widely and sold in America. The Brothers said it was the first time it was at it in England. He was. The gentle above was shown to the world. The world was true?" he was asked.

A German shrugged his shoulder and said: "I did not see it myself. I was about it," he answered.
"I believe it is true," he asked.
"Do not believe it is true," he said.—London Express.

Concern Wolf Bounties

Concerning wolf bounties, a sheep expert near Fayette, S. D., writes:
"I am a resident near an Indian reserve that Indians do their best against the pups. If given enough money will find every one in neighborhood. They generally carry a muzzle-loading shot gun and a few traps. They are killing many. A very large bounty be required, if there were no y on-pups, to support an Indian ing during summer when pelts of no value. It is suggested that moderate bounty for growing wolves enter when their pelt is of no value and ch larger bounty for during summer with a bounty on pups, would be the best way to apportion bounty.

Like O'Hara, the singing Irish lad, tells this story: "Some years are great friends of the governor, but what can he do? He asked, why, then—then they're Murphy. 'Cheer up, man,' said they to Dooley. 'Yes looks as if I didn't have a friend in the whole lot.' 'Oi haven't, neither,' Dooley said. 'G'wan,' cried Murphy to him. 'If I want money yet you'll give me as good a friend as you've had.'"—Vancouver Press.

Owing to the Fact that the 10-20 Titan Tractor is now allowed, by the Govt., to come into Canada duty-free, the price has been reduced, the present cash price being $1310 and the time price, $1420.

This is certainly a step in the right direction and one that should encourage the wheat growers of the country to put forth still greater efforts toward greater production. This, of course, was the idea of the Government when they removed the duty.

Now, if you will take time to compare the actual cost of horse power with engine power, not forgetting the very high cost of horse feed and the comparatively low price of fuel oils and the now reasonable price of Tractor, I think you will find that the argument is all in favor of the Tractor.

Order now for immediate delivery and get your engine for Spring work.

WASHOUTS ALONG ROSEBUD TIE UP C. N. R. TO CALGARY

The train service to Calgary has been blocked for the past few days as a result of washouts along the Rosebud Creek, more than ten bridges having been carried away by the high water.

Crews have been at work for several days with pile drivers repairing the damage but the ice is breaking up at various points and very little headway is being made. The latest advice is that the rail will be open to Calgary by the end of next week.

For the present, however, passengers for points east of here are being sent C. P. R. to Stettler and the south-bound Edmonton train held at Stettler until the C. T. V. arrives. The officials responsible for the mail service have arranged to send the mail the same route but the first Calgary mail to reach here for 7 days was on last night's train.

IMPORTANCE OF WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

The value of the local institutes represented should not be overlooked while the work of the big convention is being considered. Humanity is social not individual. That is, people must associate with other people or they are not living normally. The circumstances of settlement on the Western prairies are unfavorable in large measure to that intimacy of association and consequent interchange of ideas that is the rule under usual conditions of life in almost any other country. The isolation of the homestead tends to develop, or at least accentuate, individuality. But in proportion as individualism is increased by this condition the tendency towards co-operative or sympathetic action is checked or hampered, and the many advantages of the exchange of ideas and concerted action are lost. The work of the farmer of the prairie provinces of necessity brings him in contact with his neighbors and the people with whom he does business. The housewife on the prairie has no such opportunity. The husband keeps in social touch in the ordinary course of business. The wife must live valuable time alone to visit even one neighbor.

Therefore her visiting list is short and her opportunity for discussion of matters of public interest, or for co-operative effort towards better conditions, are very limited. The local institute gives the opportunity to women of like interests to meet in numbers with the least loss of time or effort and to get the varying view points of each other regarding the matters that interest them most, and in regard to which they constitute the disservice force. The element of prairie farm life is one of the greatest drawbacks to a constant improvement of Western conditions. Many women refuse to undergo it, and many others leave it as soon as their circumstances will permit. Every other condition may be satisfactory and still they are not able to balance the greater independence of farm life against lack of a larger measure of social intercourse. For this reason the development of improved rural conditions has been slower on the prairies than the material facts would seem to warrant. The Women's Institute, coupled with the prestige and power of the vote, would seem to be a long step on the way out. The woman who has lived closely at home, who has had the opportunity to meet or discuss of general interest with her neighbors, has the opportunity as a member of an institute to meet more neighbors in one day than she could have met in a year in the time means she could spare. She has a reason for meeting them. A purpose to be served. An opportunity to take part in the consideration of matters of wider sweep than her own home, although most intimately related to the welfare of the home. By this means she has the opportunity to educate herself for the new responsibility of the sufferer which she has assumed, and which will be a weapon for good or ill as she makes wise or unwise use of it. The rural women's institute meets an need in the life of the woman who, more than any one else, are building up the country; a need that is not met by any other institution or organization. Their work is social, educational and constructive. The more knowledge and efficiency the women bring to bear on those matters which are their special care, the more intelligently they can consider and decide on the matters of general concern in regard to which they must have equal responsibility with the men.

The Women's Institute of Munson will meet on Wed. April 3rd. At which time a report of the Convention will be read. The program for the coming year will be arranged after which tea will be served. Members (if the past year's members) not attended since December are reminded to enroll themselves as members this year.

A DRY CANADA

Canada virtually goes dry on April 1st, under regulations issued recently. The manufacture of intoxicating liquors is prohibited from that date. It is provided, however, that "in case the sale of intoxicating liquor of any class for beverage purposes is permitted in any province, this regulation shall not apply to the manufacture of such intoxicating liquor in such province until December 31, 1918." The latter provision, in regard to the manufacture, is operative in two cases:

The manufacture of beer in Quebec.

Manufacture of native wines in Ontario.

In both instances, manufacture is to cease at the end of the present year. The order-in-council authorizing the regulations recites that prohibitory laws have been passed and are force in every province, except in the province of Quebec, where the prohibitory law is to go into effect on May 1, 1919. It is in order to make such legislation more effective, the order-in-council states, that regulations have been enacted to supplement the provincial laws.
